You → Ma'am I have checked his papers. He is careless and has made such mistakes which he shouldn't have.

Teacher → Yes, you are right. Rohan is very talkative. Although he is intelligent, he is not that attentive in class. In Maths class, he enjoys studies, answers all the questions promptly, participates actively in quiz sessions but he is sleepy and inactive in English class. He seems lost in his thoughts or busy with some mischief, prank or enjoyment. Please tell him to be serious in studies. He is good at extra-curricular activities and sports but he does not take interest in any activity. We have to push him. He disturbs the other students and the whole class. Every teacher scolds him but nothing affects him. He is least bothered.

You → Ma'am please be strict with him. Please punish him if required.

Teacher → No, we cannot punish any one. According to the norms of CBSC, corporal punishment is not allowed. We can only scold and advise them. So please strictly warn him not to create nuisance in class.

You → Sure Ma'am. Thank you for your time and effort.
